IN THE COURT OF APPEAL OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

FIRST APPELLATE DISTRICT

DIVISION THREE

In re D.G., a Person Coming Under the Juvenile Court Law.

THE PEOPLE,

Plaintiff and Respondent,

v.

D.G.,

Defendant and Appellant.

A148433

(Contra Costa County
Super. Ct. No. J1600461)

16-year-old D.G. (appellant) appeals from a judgment entered after the juvenile court placed him on probation for committing one count of reckless driving (Veh. Code, § 23103, subd. (a), count 1) and one count of giving false information to a police officer (Pen. Code, § 148.9, subd. (a), count 2). Appellant's counsel has filed a brief pursuant to People v. Wende (1979) 25 Cal.3d 436 and requests that we conduct an independent review of the record. Appellant was informed of his right to file a supplemental brief and did not do so. Having independently reviewed the record, we conclude there are no issues that require further briefing, and shall affirm the judgment.

FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

On April 15, 2016, the Solano County District Attorney filed a wardship petition alleging appellant committed one count of reckless driving (Veh. Code, § 23103, subd. (a), count 1); one count of giving false information to a police officer (Pen. Code, § 148.9, subd. (a), count 2); and one count of driving without a license (Veh. Code, § 12500, subd. (a), count 3). Appellant admitted the first two counts, and the third count was dismissed. The matter was then transferred to Contra Costa County based on appellant's legal residence with his father in that county.

According to the probation officer's report, on April 14, 2016, during a traffic stop for a cracked windshield, appellant provided police officers with a false name and date of birth and admitted he did not have a driver's license. While the officers were confirming appellant's identity with dispatch, appellant drove away in a reckless manner at a high rate of speed. The officers had to collide the patrol car into appellant's vehicle in order to stop him. Appellant lost control of his vehicle, collided with a nearby house, then fled on foot.

At a May 13, 2016 dispositional hearing, the juvenile court adjudged appellant a ward of the court, placed him on probation under various conditions, and ordered him to pay various fines and fees.

DISCUSSION

Appellant's counsel has filed a brief pursuant to People v. Wende, supra, 25 Cal.3d 436, and asks this court to independently review the entire record to determine if it contains any issues which would, if resolved favorably to the appellant, result in reversal or modification. We have examined the entire record and have found no reasonably arguable appellate issue, and we are satisfied that counsel has fully complied with her responsibilities. (People v. Kelly (2006) 40 Cal.4th 106, 109–110; People v. Wende, supra, 25 Cal.3d at p. 441.)

DISPOSITION

The judgment is affirmed.
